HAUGHTON IN CHARGE OF HARVARD ELEVEN

New York, Oct. 5.—The latest rumor in baseball circues is that John McGraw is through as leader of the Giants. It is reported that the players are so angry at him for insinuations of the playing that they "laid down" to the Dodgers on Tuesday that they will not everyone, from Field Coach Leo Leary stand for him as manager next sea. Dodgers on Tuesday that they will not everyone, from Field Coach Leo Leary stand for him as manager next season. Charlie Hergog, who managed the Reds this season before he was traded to the local club, will succeed McGraw, it is said.

Some of the players commented yesterday on McGraw's outbreak at Ebbets Field. George Buras, the outfielder, said: "I can't honestly believe that Mae said the things which were printed. Some dealers so long as they were turning over money felt that they could sell for a margin very slightly in excess of actual cost. In trying to force them to live up to the named retail price manufacturers met with various legal obstacles. Now they have adopted a new plan whereby they impress upon the dealer that an arthey impress upon the dealer that an ar-ticle widely advertised and nationally known, is something worth representing. Just so long as the dealer maintains the price of the goods in question he will be permitted to handle them. The moment though that he deviates from this policy his contract will be canceled and the rights given to another who is willing to maintain prices.
